WHAT IS FOREX TRADING ?

Forex trading, or foreign exchange trading, involves buying and selling currencies in the global financial market. The goal is to make a profit from the changes in currency exchange rates. Forex trading is done in pairs, such as EUR/USD (Euro/US Dollar) or GBP/JPY (British Pound/Japanese Yen), where you are simultaneously buying one currency and selling another. For example, if you think the Euro will strengthen against the US Dollar, you might buy the EUR/USD pair. If the Euro does indeed strengthen, you can then sell it at a higher rate and make a profit. The Forex market is the largest and most liquid financial market in the world, with daily trading volume exceeding $6 trillion. It operates 24 hours a day, five days a week, due to the different time zones of financial markets around the world. Traders can engage in spot trading (buying or selling currencies for immediate delivery), forward trading (agreeing to exchange currencies at a future date), or futures trading (contracts to exchange currencies at a set price in the future). Forex trading is often done by banks, financial institutions, corporations, and individual traders using online platforms. The market is influenced by factors like economic data, interest rates, geopolitical events, and market sentiment.
